The Day I Met Martina

My friendship with Martina was coming about after the strangest of encounters. No sooner I had sat down in the café when a young girl asked if she could join me. When I said it was being fine, she sat down next to me and introduced herself as Martina. We had been soon chatting away and enjoying each other's company. After we been talking for a while, I had to go to the bathroom, but only after getting back I realised Martina had gone. I was surprised and a little disappointed to say the least, but this turned to anger when I realised she had made off with my phone. And this wasn't just any phone – it was the new smartphone that my parents were recently gave me for my birthday. Never I received such an amazing present. I couldn't believe that I had been so naive as to leave it on the table. I angrily told the waiter what had happened and that I was going to call the police. But just as I had been leaving the café, Martina came running back up the road. When I started to shout at her, she stopped me and said, 'I'm so sorry ... I suddenly realised I was very late for an appointment, so I had to leave quickly. I picked up your phone because I thought it was mine. We had got the same phone!' She gave my phone back to me and then showed me her own. Not only it was the same model, but it had the same purple case. Ever since that day, we're been the best of friends.
