

Description	Students have a discussion using questions ending in prepositions
Lesson link	Use this activity after exercise 5
Time	10 minutes
Extra material	None

Instructions

- a In 5 Speaking SS see the question Where are your parents from? Write this sentence on the board and underline from. Ask SS 'What kind of word is this?' Elicit: preposition. To check understanding, elicit further examples of prepositions from the class and write them on the board. Examples are at, by, for, in, on, to, with, etc. Tell SS that questions that end with a preposition are quite common in spoken English. SS may feel that it is incorrect to place a preposition here, as it may be considered an error in their own language.
- b To practise this, write the following questions on the board.

*Where did you go last weekend?
What did you go there for?*

*Where are you going next weekend?
Who are you going with?*

*Are you writing any emails today?
Who are you writing to?*

*What are you learning English for?
Who do you live with?*

You might like to point out that 'what ... for?' is another way of asking 'why?'

- c SS ask and answer the questions in pairs.
