Lost treasures

Jerry first moved to the Scottish island of St Kilda in 2005. He started working for The National Trust. It helps to protect natural areas and historic buildings. During the summer, Jerry repaired the island's oldest buildings. In the winter, he went to live with his parents in Glasgow. In 2010, he got a job as the island's manager. Now he lives in a lighthouse on the island.

In the past, about 180 people lived on St Kilda. They grew their own food and caught seabirds for meat. It was a hard life. They didn't leave the island often. When they needed something, they put a message in a bottle and tied it to a small boat.

In the 1920s people started to leave because they didn't have enough food. On August the 29th, 1930, the last inhabitants left the island. 'I don't think they wanted to go,' says Jerry. 'This is a tough place, but it's very beautiful, too.'
