

ASKING FOR AND RESPONDING TO INFORMATION

Student A

- 1 You have one side of a conversation about a holiday. Your partner has the other side. Put the conversation in the correct order. You start:

How was your holiday?

3 Really? What was it like?

7 Every day? No way!

9 You're joking!

5 A water park! Wow! What about the food?

1 How was your holiday?

- 2 Practise your own conversation about last weekend. Decide where you went and what you did there. Use the ideas below, or your own ideas.

a museum a party a theme park

Answer your partner's questions:

Your partner: How was your weekend?

You: It was really cool! We went to a theme park.

Students' own answers

- 3 Practise another conversation about last weekend. Ask your partner questions. You start:

How was your weekend?

Useful language

How was your weekend?

What was (it) like?

It was (amazing)!

What about (the rides/the music)?

Was/Were there (a lot of people)?

Wow!/No way!/Really?

You're joking!

Of course I'm joking!

Students' own answers

ASKING FOR AND RESPONDING TO INFORMATION

Student B

- 1 You have one side of a conversation about a holiday. Your partner has the other side. Put the conversation in the correct order. Your partner starts.

8 Yup, we did. We had hamburgers for breakfast and dinner, too.

2 It was really cool! We went to the Canary Islands.

10 Of course I'm joking!

6 It was delicious! We had hamburgers for lunch every day!

4 It was amazing. We stayed in a hotel with a water park!

- 2 Practise your own conversation. Your partner went to an interesting place last weekend. Ask your partner questions. You start:

How was your weekend?

Students' own answers

- 3 Practise another conversation about last weekend. Decide where you went and what you did there. Use the ideas below, or your own ideas.

a concert a restaurant a sports event

Answer your partner's questions:

Your partner: How was your weekend?

You: It was really cool! We went to a football match.

Useful language

How was your weekend?

What was (it) like?

It was (amazing)!

What about (the rides/the music)?

Was/Were there (a lot of people)?

Wow!/No way!/Really?

You're joking!

Of course I'm joking!

Students' own answers