Transcript 2

It's an exciting day for Prince William and Kate Middleton. Their son, two-year-old Prince George, starts school today, 6 January 2016. He goes to a Montessori School in Norfolk, near the Sandringham Estate where the family live. There are 700 of these schools in Britain.

But what is a Montessori School? They're different from other schools in Britain. The classes all have pupils of different ages. The pupils can choose what they want to do. They watch and listen to other children, and they learn from the other children too. The children don't have to do tests in Montessori schools. In Prince George's part of the school, the pupils are aged two to six. On Monday and Friday, the school is open from half past eight to one o'clock. It's open until three o'clock on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

I'm wearing a short-sleeved, orange T-shirt, shorts and a baseball cap. I don't want the sun on my head! Oh, and I've got some new sunglasses! They're quite expensive, so I don't want to lose them.

Speaker 2

I'm wearing a tracksuit today. Sometimes I just wear a tight T-shirt and shorts. I'm also wearing some green and yellow trainers. I'm meeting some friends at the gym later today. There's a special training class at 9 o'clock.

Speaker 3

I always wear a smart outfit like this. I hardly ever wear casual clothes; only when I'm not working at the weekend or on school trips. I usually wear a short, black jacket, white shirt and a skirt. The students have to wear a uniform, so it's important that I'm smart, too. Oh, and I've got a lovely patterned skirt that I like to wear when I'm teaching.

Speaker 4

I'm ready to go now! I've got my hat on and I'm wearing a dark coat, black gloves and a scarf. I'm wearing two pairs of socks! And a pair of expensive, warm boots.

Speaker 5

I'm so excited! And I'm so hungry! I've got a smart, new dress to wear tonight. It's long-sleeved and patterned. And I've got a beautiful bracelet to go with it. I'm also wearing my new black shoes. What? It's raining? Oh no ... what time is the table booked for? We'll have to take a taxi!

Come on, it's late – let's go now. Let's go to the street by the supermarket first and try to find some fresh food. Then we can look in the bins outside the French restaurant.

Speaker 2

Hi, I'd like the tomato soup to start please, followed by the fish and chips. Oh, and could I have some olives, please?

Speaker 3

Oh, where's the knife? Ah, here it is. So, I need some potatoes, two onions and those carrots ... I hope you're hungry!

Speaker 4

My food is very popular with people who like healthy eating. I normally like to cook with meat and fruit. I never waste any food. I am very creative and I like cooking new recipes.

Everyone is really angry. We love this village – it's quiet, green and beautiful. There's hardly any traffic and the air is fresh and clean. But now, they're building a shopping centre on the fields over there. They're also building a motorway through the valley and the woods. It's terrible!

Speaker 2

I work in an office block in the centre of town. It's an ugly, grey building on a busy street. The noise of the traffic is awful. There's a hospital opposite, a supermarket on the left and a car park on the right. I can't see any green spaces from my window. The only advantage of working here is that I can take the stairs up to my office every morning. It's on the sixth floor, so at least I can be a bit active every day!

Speaker 3

I work on a farm. It's called Hambrook Farm and it's near a small lake. I get up at four every morning and go to work on foot. I have to cross a small bridge and go along the path past the lake. It's a lovely way to start the day. If it's raining a lot, my friend John, who lives next door,

I'm studying zoology, and as part of my course we get to travel abroad. Last year I went to Africa. It's the best continent to learn about gorillas, because you can watch them in their natural surroundings. I took photos of the animals every day, and wrote about their routines and family relationships in a blog. I was very surprised to discover how similar they are to us.

Speaker 2

I went to see The Revenant last weekend. My favourite actor, Leonardo DiCaprio, is in it. There was this amazing bear fight – it was really exciting to watch! He was in the middle of the woods and he heard some animals close to him. They were baby bears. Then, he saw the mother bear and she ran after him, jumped on him and pushed him to the ground. He hit his head on some rocks and she held him down with one of her large paws ...

Speaker 3

Longleat is in the south-west of England. It has many wild animals, including elephants and lions. There's a large lake with hippos and an island where the gorillas live. Did you know that gorillas are frightened of water?

The park is most famous for the Monkey 'Drive-Thru'.
Don't take your car if it's new! They jump all over the cars and break everything!

Speaker 4

It was just after midnight. I was in my sleeping bag inside the tent and I saw a light. I looked outside, but there wasn't a moon. The light moved towards my tent and then across it. I felt very scared. Then, I heard a voice. It was my cousin from the tent behind me. He had his smartphone on and needed the light to find his way to the toilet!

Speaker 5

We had to carry everything on our backs – our sleeping bags, food and drink. In general, it wasn't too bad. But it was difficult when we had to climb the mountains. We had to take a map and compass. And it was important to keep our mobile phones with us, in case we lost our way. We got up early every day so that we could arrive at the next youth hostel before sunset.

Grandmother Hi Alfie. Can you help me, please?

Alfie Sure Grandma. What's the problem?

Grandmother Well, I took a lovely photo yesterday that I want to send, but I don't know how to do it with my smartphone.

The Test audio can be played from the Teacher's Resource Disk or you can use the downloaded MP3s.

Alfie Oh, that's easy. Let's do it now. Take your phone Grandma. That's it. Well, if you send a photo with your usual messaging service, then you'll have to pay. It's not much – just 30p. But there are some free apps you can download, like WhatsApp and Snapchat, if you want to send a photo for nothing.

Grandmother Oh no, I don't want to have anything else on my phone!

Alfie OK then. To start off with, just find your messages button.

Grandmother This one, right?

Alfie That's right. First of all, press on the button to send a new message. It's a plus sign on my phone.

Grandmother Yes, it's the same on my phone. OK, I press the button. What next?

Alfie Secondly, press on the button for attachments – that's for adding things. Now, you can see a list of things you can send – it has words like 'videos' and 'pictures'. If you press on 'pictures', you can see all of the photos that are on your phone.

Grandmother Oh yes, here they are! I took thirty yesterday!

Alfie That's good! OK. Next, choose the picture you want to send. Yes, just press it. Finally, write your message to go with the photo.

Grandmother OK. Let me just ... (grandmother talking out loud slowly as she types in message) Hi Simon, look at this photo of your cousin, Alfie, in his smart school uniform ...

Alfie Oh Grandma! Don't send that! I look awful! Can I show you how to delete photos now?

Today on Radio Live, we're talking about the latest YouTube celebrity – she's 26-year-old Angel Collinson and she's from the US state of Utah. Angel is a champion skier, and she also works in films which involve ski scenes. She's even won an award for her skiing performance at the International Free-Skiing Film Festival in Montreal, Canada. But now she's more famous for surviving a 300-metre fall down a mountain in Alaska. She was at work that day making a movie when she hit some ice and then lost control. Someone filmed Angel as she fell down the steep rock face and rolled down the snowy mountain side. The fall took around thirty seconds. It felt a lot longer when I watched it! She covered her head with her hands until she stopped. It was amazing that she only hurt two fingers on one hand. Her support team were in a rescue helicopter above. When she stopped in the snow, she shouted to her team: 'I'm OK ... I'm fine.' What an amazing woman! And what a lucky woman!

More than 350,000 people watched her fall on YouTube last month. Now they're using the video to help make the sport safer for everyone.

Emily Hi, I'm Emily. I've come to look at the house.

Kate Oh hi! Do you want to come in?

Emily Yes, great.

Kate I'm Kate ... So you're at the university?

Emily Yes, I'm going to start my second year in October. I'm looking for somewhere to live that's closer.

Kate Oh, I see. Did you see the ad for the room in the student newspaper?

Emily No, on the university website.

Kate Oh, right. So, let me show you downstairs first. This is the living room, and we share the kitchen too. We also share the housework. Lisa's just tidied the kitchen ... but Jenny hasn't hoovered the living room yet.

Jenny (calls out) Sorry, I haven't had time yet. I'm going to do it after lunch. Promise!

Kate No problem! Let's go upstairs. Here's the free bedroom. It's small, but very comfortable. There are shelves by the window – there isn't a chest of drawers I'm afraid, but there is a wardrobe for your clothes.

Emily It looks nice.

Kate Here's the bathroom – there's a shower behind the door.

Emily Do you share the bills?

Kate Yes, we do. But we don't have to pay for the water.

Emily I really love it.

Kate Fantastic, but I'm afraid the landlord isn't here at the moment.

Emily Oh no!

Kate Can you call tomorrow at around nine in the morning?

Emily Ten is better for me. I have to go the doctor early in the morning.

Kate OK. That's fine. Call at ten and I'm sure he'll be here. He's got lots of things to do in the garden.

Emily Cheers then! See you tomorrow!
