I'm a dinner lady at our village primary school. That is, I cook the school dinners. We call it dinner, but you can also call it lunch. I know the school really well because my son went there when he was little. He's fourteen now, so he goes to a different school, but my sister's little boy, my nephew, is seven, so he goes to the school. It's a village school and the children are aged between four and eleven.

I have to wear an awful, baggy, blue dress for work and a white paper hat! I also wear my black trainers, because they're more comfortable than shoes, and I have to stand up for a long time.

I usually get to work at eleven fifteen. I live next to the school, so it doesn't take me long to get here! First, I have to set the tables in the school hall. After that, we prepare the food in the large kitchen. I'm always very busy. There are 420 children at the school and four hundred of them have school dinners! A few of the children bring in packed lunches, but most of them eat our food. We have to use the freshest vegetables and we don't use much sugar in our desserts. Because we're in the middle of the countryside, we have our own field behind the school. We grow carrots, onions, potatoes and lettuces, and we're going to start growing tomatoes next year. The food is much healthier than when my son was here.

Lunch is from twelve thirty to one thirty. The youngest children come in first. Then, the older children come in, at about quarter to one. After lunch, we never throw away the children's leftover fruit and vegetables. We keep it to reuse for the field. The waste is called 'compost' and it helps the vegetables to grow better. The children are learning not to waste food too – another advantage of going to school in the countryside! Finally, at twenty to two we load the dishwashers and I clean the tables. I'm always very tired when I get home at about half past two. It's not a long day but we have to work really hard!

Conversation 1

Speaker 1 I don't know how to get this student accommodation app on my smartphone.

Speaker 2 First of all, you have to go to the app store and look for a button with a picture of a small, yellow house on it. Then, press a button that has 'install' on it. Next, open the app and you'll have to enter your email address and a password. Now you can search for the kind of accommodation you're looking for.

Speaker 1 Thanks. I want to find a flat near the university and Mikey said this was the best way to get something.

Speaker 2 Good luck!

Conversation 2

Speaker 1 I've just been to look at a room in a shared house.

Speaker 2 Oh, was it OK?

Speaker 1 It was the worst I've seen! And the most expensive! The living room was really untidy and the kitchen was dirty. The only shelves were in the hall. And there wasn't even a wardrobe in the bedroom!

Speaker 2 What are you going to do?

Speaker 1 I think I'll look at the first house again. It was the cleanest and the people were the friendliest.

Speaker 2 How much was the rent?

Speaker 1 £80 per person per week.

Conversation 3

Speaker 1 I had an accident in the halls of residence yesterday.

Speaker 2 Oh no! What happened?

Speaker 1 The lift was broken so I had to take the stairs. I was in a rush, so I started to run down when ...

Speaker 2 Did you fall?

Speaker 1 I sure did! I fell down around fifteen steps.
Look what happened to me!

Speaker 2 What? Did you break your arm? Oh no!
You've broken your foot!

Speaker 1 Yes, I have! That's not very good news for a sports science student, is it? I have to miss the next sixteen training sessions this term ... I'm really upset.

- 1 Laura Hi Martin! What's the matter?
Martin I'm really disappointed with my new computer. I keep getting these error messages. I've followed all of the on-screen instructions, but I don't know what I'm supposed to do now! I've turned it off and I've restarted it, but I haven't backed up my work, and I'm scared that I'm going to lose it all!
- 2 Sally How's the house-hunting Katy?
Katy I went to look at a place last Wednesday and I've found somewhere! It's a lovely house in a small village about 7 km from here, so it's very quiet and I'll be able to see fields from my bedroom window! The only disadvantage is that it's quite far from the university. But it's cheaper than living in the city, so I'm going to take it!
- 3 Alexander is a Russian student who has a dangerous hobby. He's a 'free climber', but you won't find him climbing the rock face of a mountain! Alexander and his friends climb the tallest buildings in Moscow – some of them are nearly 300 metres tall. And they don't use ropes or safety equipment!
- 4 Hi Mum! I went online last night and I discovered that your grandfather, so that's my great-grandfather, was born in 1921 in North America, and they moved to this continent when he was five! And your great-uncle was an engineer who designed bridges.
- 5 Hey Dad! Don't throw those carrots and onions away! Or that beef! I'm going to make a soup with them tomorrow. I've got a few red peppers here, and we can use that old bread to make croutons – you know, to put on top of the soup ... It'll be delicious! We really have to stop wasting so much food!
