Here's a photo of my family. Our name is Holman. This nice lady is my grandma. Her name is Lily. She's sixty-five years old now. Here's my dad, Tim, and my mum, Ellen. He's thirty-eight and she's thirty-four. They're from London. My cat is there too, can you see? His name is Fluffy. He's thirteen now. That's very old for a cat!

And that's my brother. His name is Alex and he's fourteen. He's with my cousin. Her name is Jenny. She's eleven like me. And that's Jenny's mum. My aunt's name is Jill. She's my dad's sister. She's forty-one, I think. My uncle's name is Charlie. He's forty-nine years old. There's a big party for his birthday next week!

- A: Yes, it is. When's his birthday?
- B: His birthday? Wait a moment ... It's the first of January. No, it isn't. It's the first of February.

B: Yes! White Eskimo.

A: Fantastic! And the last question: What's Harry's favourite football team?

B: Is it Liverpool?

A: No. It's Manchester United!

1

M: Look at these. Which one do you like?

G: This apartment is the same as our apartment. It's got a garage.

M: Yes, it's got a garage, but I don't like it. I like houses with gardens. Our apartment hasn't got a garden.

B: Oh! Can we live in a house, please?

M: OK. We can look at some houses.

2

G: I want to live in a house, too. Sam can play in the garden. Let's get a house!

M: Yes, that's right, he can. Dogs love gardens.

G: Poor Sam. He sits on the balcony all the time.

B: Yes, he doesn't like the balcony. He wants to be outside!

3

M: Look! This house has got three bedrooms.

B: Hooray! I can have a bedroom. Our apartment has got two bedrooms and I'm always with Helen.

G: Yes, I don't like our bedroom. It's got two beds and no space for toys.

M: OK. Our new house needs three bedrooms, not two.

4

M: The house is nice, but it isn't near the school.

G: Where is it?

M: It's near the shops.

B: That's OK. We can get the bus to school.

M: Hmm ... Maybe.

5

M: OK. I need to call the estate agent. Let's see ... What's the name in the paper?

B: It's Brents. B-R-E-N-T-S.

M: Let's call and we can see the house on Saturday.

G: On Saturday? Can we come too, Mum?

M: Yes, of course you can!

R: Hi, Rob. How are you? What's that?

D: It's my 'Walk to School' badge.

R: Why do you have a 'Walk to School' badge?

D: Because it's 'Walk to School' month.

R: Do you mean this October?

D: Yes. In October we walk to school in the morning in a group. We meet in the park at eight o'clock in the morning.

R: Eight o'clock! Why do you do that?

D: It's good to do exercise and it's fun!

R: Do you get a badge every day?

D: No, we get the badge at the end of the month.

R: Do you walk with your mum and dad?

D: No, we walk with my friend's mum. Her name's Mrs Greenhow.

- R: G-R-E-E-N-H-O-W? I know her! She's my sister's teacher!
- D: Well, she's the leader of the 'Walk to School' group, too.
- R: And do your mum and dad walk to work in October, too?
- D: Dad doesn't. He goes to work on the train. But mum walks with us on parents' day. That's on Monday morning.
- R: What's on the badge? Can I see?
- D: It's a star. Look! The picture is different every month.
- R: That's really nice. I'm going now – my school starts in ten minutes!
- D: Oh no! It's 'Run to School' time!

J = Jake M = Mum L = Laura

- J: Is this the brochure for the tour in Peru?
- M: Yes, it is. There are lots of animals and birds to see.
- L: Which birds do we see? Can I have a look? When do we leave?
- M: The tour starts in December, Laura. ... Let's see. Day 1: we drive from Cusco up to the mountains to begin our seven-day tour. The views are great and we can see our first animals.
- J: What do we see? Is it snakes?
- M: No, not snakes, Jake. Monkeys!
- L: I can't wait!
- L: What about the second day?
- M: Let's see ... On day 2 we go to the river and take a boat trip. We usually see Caiman here.
- L: What are Caiman? Are they frogs?
- M: No, Caiman are a type of crocodile. They live in rivers and streams and they like sitting in the sun. So they are very easy to see.
- L: Are they dangerous?

- M: Um ... no. The brochure says Caiman never attack people because they are too small. They eat jungle animals.
- M: Ah! Laura, listen to the description of day 3. In the morning we visit Blanquillo, where we often see macaws and parrots. They fly in large groups and eat clay.
- L: Hooray! I love parrots. They're my favourite birds.
- J: What about snakes?
- M: Er ... no, not on day 3.
- J: Where do we go in the afternoon?
- M: Um ... we go to Camungo Lake.
- J: And what is there at the lake? Are there any dolphins?
- M: Not dolphins. I think there are river dolphins in South America, but they don't usually live in lakes.
- J: So what is there at the lake?
- M: There are lots of different birds like quetzals. Um ... oh! It says, 'On day 4 in the evening we walk around the lake to find interesting frogs.'
- J: That sounds like fun. Frogs always come out in the dark.
- M: Yes, it says that the evening is the best time to see them. And they make lots of noise!
- J: Does it talk about snakes? I love snakes!
- L: Yuk! Why do you like snakes? They're dangerous.
- J: I don't know, but I really want to see one.
- M: Well, here we are: day 5: we go on a walk through the forest. This is often a good place to see snakes like the Green Tree Viper.
- J: Great!
- M: And on day six of the tour we go back to Cusco by bus.
- L: What animals and birds do we see?
- M: From the bus we usually see butterflies and hummingbirds.
- J: Oh! We're learning about hummingbirds at school.
- M: What do you know about hummingbirds, Jake?
- J: Um ... they're very small and they usually drink from flowers. And they're very beautiful. I really want to see a hummingbird, too!

- A: Hi, Thais! How are you?
B: Hi, Jessica! I'm fine, thanks. It's lovely to speak to you. What's the weather like in London?
A: Oh, it's very cold and it's raining. I'm staying inside.
B: It's raining here too.
A: Raining? But isn't it summer in São Paulo?
B: Yes, I know. It is summer for us. It's very hot. Summer starts in December. But it always rains a lot in summer.
A: I see. So when does it stop raining?
B: Well, in autumn it's cloudy but there isn't so much rain. That's April and May. And in winter it doesn't rain much at all.
A: I think it's so strange that winter for you is June, July and August! That's when I go on my holidays!
B: Yeah! It's winter but it isn't cold – maybe twenty-four degrees. You can still go on holiday in winter in Brazil. Or maybe in spring. That's when it's very sunny and warm – in September, October and November.
A: Oh ... I'd really like to come and visit one day. I'd love to go to the beach on Christmas day!
B: Yes. Please come and visit me one day! And I'd like to wake up on Christmas morning when it's snowing!

- A: Hi, Ellen.
B: Hi! This is great! I can't wait for the band to start. I hope it doesn't rain, though.
A: Yeah. It's cloudy again. ... Look, there's Lucy!
B: Lucy? Where?
A: Right at the front. She's got her mobile phone in the air.
B: Oh yes. She's videoing the band before the music starts!
A: Who's your favourite member of the band?
B: Nick.
A: Which one is Nick?
B: The one with the cap on.
A: The one playing the drums?
B: Yes. That's Nick.
A: I can see Alice now, too.
B: Alice? Where is she?
A: She's carrying her guitar. Can you see her?
B: Oh yes, I see her now. ... Is she the singer?
A: No, she isn't. She never sings.
A: Who's the singer, then?
B: Mark, of course! Really! Don't you know anything?

- A: Who's Mark? The one drinking water?
B: No. Mark's the one reading. He doesn't play any instruments. He just sings. He's reading because he's got a lot of words to remember.
A: Right.
A: Who's that girl over there?
B: The one eating a sandwich?
A: Yes, the one next to Lucy. Is she her sister?
B: No, she's her cousin. Her name's May.
A: There are lots of people arriving now, look.
B: Yes. I'm glad we've got a good view. What about your friend Tom? Is he here?
A: Yes, there he is. He's eating a banana.
B: Oh yes. Tom's always hungry.
A: Here we go ... The music's starting ...
B: And so is the rain ... oh no!

B: Great. What about the garden near the house? Are there any flowers in picture B?
A: Yes. How many are there? Let's see ... Six.
B: OK. That's another difference. There are five flowers in picture A.
A: Fantastic. Last difference ...
B: It's the weather. Look! It's ... What's the English for this weather?
A: Cloudy.
B: Oh, yes. Thanks. It's cloudy in picture A but it's sunny in picture B.
A: Yay! Finished.

6.1

Saturday is my favourite day of the week. I usually get up at seven o'clock and I wash my hair. I have breakfast and then I help my dad at the market. The market is in the town centre. I love it in the morning because the streets are closed to cars and it's really quiet. We arrive at eight o'clock and set up our stall. It's a clothes stall. I stay at the market with my dad all morning. It's fun because people talk to us and my friends usually visit me. When the market is finished, around lunchtime, we clean the street. In the afternoon I go to the cinema or the sports centre with my friends.

6.2

- 1 Last weekend we stayed with my grandma. She's from York, in the north of England. On Saturday afternoon we visited a really good museum. It's called the Jorvik Viking Centre. I was surprised when we arrived because the museum isn't in an old building. It's in a shopping centre!
- 2 The first thing you see at the museum is the Viking part of the city – through a window under your feet! It was very interesting. There was a brilliant ride called the Time Machine. The Time Machine was a little train and my grandma, my sister and I were inside. It was fun.
- 3 In the Time Machine train there was a real computer. It helped us to understand the things that we could see. I loved it! There were six different languages to choose from. The Time Machine train travelled past Vikings who were near the river and they talked to us! Then it visited a farm.
- 4 The thing I liked a lot was the way the Time Machine train showed real people. There was a Viking market, which was loud and dirty. And there was a family in their house, singing and eating. We learned about typical Viking food. They didn't eat much fruit. They usually had fish and meat with bread.
- 5 The last thing on the Time Machine ride is a big house and you see the bedroom. There was a beautiful bear skin on the bed. And in the garden of the house was a real Viking toilet! It was a really interesting day and we learned a lot.

7.1 and 7.2

- A: What are you writing about for the homework, Bruno?
- B: I'm writing about when I went to Milan in 2017.
- A: Milan? Where's that?
- B: It's in Italy.
- A: Why did you go to Milan?
- B: There was a special event there for people who love building. I went with my sister and my parents. We built a really tall tower out of plastic bricks.

A: How did you do that?

B: Well, we didn't build it by ourselves! About eighteen thousand people built it. We wanted to break the record for the tallest tower made of toy bricks in the world. People in different countries try to build the biggest tower – in 2008 they built a tower in England and before that it was in 2007 in Canada.

A: And how tall was the tower in Italy?

B: It was thirty-five metres tall in the end.

A: That's a lot of bricks!

B: Yes, about five hundred and fifty thousand bricks.

A: Wow! Where did they all come from?

B: They always use the same bricks in each country that builds a tower. They always come from Denmark.

A: And how long did people work on the tower?

B: Five days. They started building on the seventeenth of June and finished on the twenty-first of June.

A: That's amazing!

B: Yes. And a famous Italian TV presenter put the last brick on top of the tower.

A: Did he?

B: Yes, his name was Alessandro Cattelan. C-A-T-T-E-L-A-N.

A: What happened when they finished the tower? Did they leave it there?

B: No, the tower isn't there now. They took the bricks back to Denmark. But the company who make the bricks gave money to a charity afterwards.

A: Great idea. How much money did they make?

B: Umm, they gave seven euros for every centimetre of the tower, so ... I can't do the maths! A lot of money!

A: It sounds great. So that's what you're writing about for 'The trip that changed your life'. Why did it change your life?

B: Yes. It was a really good experience. When I saw the finished tower, I thought that all the small things we do are important. My family and I learnt to work with other people and together. And we made some new friends.

A: Wow! I need to think hard about what to write now!

Ben went on holiday. It was cold when he left home. He went with his mum, dad and brother. They went to the airport and waited for three hours. It was boring. But when they saw a famous tennis player called Alex Bravo, they were very excited. Next Ben found the tennis player's sunglasses on the floor. In the end, Alex Bravo gave his sunglasses to Ben. Ben said, 'Thank you very much!' He was very happy.

I = Interviewer E = Ellen

I: We're very happy to welcome Ellen Prince to our programme today. She works for the new fashion museum and she's going to tell us some interesting facts about clothes. Ellen, over to you.

E: Well, my first clothes fact is about the world's first fashion designer. Her name was Rose Bertin and she lived about three hundred years ago in France. One of her most famous clients was Marie Antoinette, the queen of France. She made some really amazing dresses!

And here is another amazing dress. The wedding dress with the longest train in the world. The train is the part of the dress at the back which goes on the floor when the bride walks. This dress was made in China in 2017. It took twenty-two people one month to make it.

A pair of shoes also broke another record. They are the highest shoes in the world, at ninety-four centimetres. A man called James Syiemiong made them in India. But can anyone walk in them?

There are some crazier records. Did you know that there is a record for the most people wearing sunglasses in the dark? On the sixth of September 2015, six thousand seven hundred and seventy-four people got together in Valladolid, Spain, to set this record. They all had to wear their sunglasses in the dark for five minutes. It was ten o'clock at night!

And I'm afraid that people say the British are the people who dress the worst in Europe. Forty-four percent of Europeans who answered a recent survey thought that British people dress worse than them. And this is strange because British people spend the most on clothes – in 2015 it was seventy million euros!

A: Where do you think this tree is? It looks very old.

B: Yes, it's amazing. Perhaps it's in the USA.

A: Let's check the answer key ... Yes, it is!

B

A: This is a beautiful photo, but I don't know if I want to go there.

B: Hmm ... too cold. I think it's Antarctica.

A: Yes, you're right.

C

A: Do you think this is Africa?

B: No, it looks more like India.

A: Yes, maybe it is. Let's see ... Yes, it's India.

- D
A: This looks like South America. I guess it's Chile.
B: No, it isn't. It's Bolivia. It's the capital city, La Paz.
E
A: Is this a photo of Berlin?
B: No, it looks smaller than Berlin. Perhaps it's Vienna.
A: Let's see ... You're right again! It's Vienna, in Austria.
F
A: Maybe this photo is Bolivia as well.
B: I don't think so. I think it's that famous desert in Chile.
A: Umm ... That's correct!

8.4 and 8.5

- 1 Maybe it's the highest capital city on Earth.
- 2 I think it's the oldest tree in the world.
- 3 I think it's the best place to live in the world.
- 4 Perhaps it's the driest place on Earth.
- 5 Perhaps it's the wettest place on Earth.
- 6 I guess it's the coldest place on Earth.

8.6

- A: Hello and welcome to Where on Earth? In today's programme we're going to hear some very interesting facts about places all over the world. Where is the coldest place on Earth? Where is the highest capital city? And, perhaps the question we all want to know the answer to: where is the best place to live in the whole world? To answer those questions, we have Professor Green from the World Record Association. Welcome to the programme, Professor Green.
B: Thank you. It's great to be here.
A: Well, can we start by talking about the weather? I think that Antarctica is the coldest place on Earth. Am I right?
B: Yes, you are. Antarctica is the coldest continent. Even in summer, the temperature in higher parts of Antarctica is around minus twenty. But the lowest temperature recorded there was minus eighty-nine degrees Celsius. That's eighty-nine degrees below zero.
A: And from the coldest place to the driest. Perhaps it's the Sahara Desert in Africa?
B: No, it isn't in Africa. It's actually in South America. The Atacama Desert in Chile has less than one millimetre of rain per year.
A: Wow! I didn't know that.
B: Yes, most people think it's the Sahara. And what about the wettest place in the world? Do you know where it is?
A: I guess it's the Amazon rainforest. Is that right?
B: Wrong again! The wettest place on Earth is in India and it's called Mawsynram. There are around eleven thousand millimetres of rain there every year.
A: Eleven thousand! Wow! I don't know if I want to live there.
B: Perhaps you'd like to live in the highest capital city in the world: La Paz in Bolivia. This amazing city is three thousand six hundred metres above sea level.
A: Maybe. But where do experts say is the best place in the world to live?
B: Perhaps this will surprise you. It's Vienna in Austria. In a survey in 2015, experts discovered that people who live there had the best quality of life.
A: Well, that's another thing I didn't know! Thank you very much, Professor, for joining us today.
B: You're welcome.
A: Next on the programme we're going to ...

A: What happened to you?
B: I fell over, look at my knees.
A: Oh dear! They look sore.
- 6
A: I don't want any lunch today.
B: Why not?
A: It's my teeth. I need to go to the dentist's.

- 1
A: Your mother and I are thinking about the holiday in August. Do you want to stay in a hotel again this year, Harry?
B: I didn't like being at the hotel last year. It was really noisy. I like staying in the flat with Grandma and Grandpa.
A: Are you sure? Do you want to try camping, maybe?
B: No, thanks. It's going to be too hot to go camping. And if we stay with Grandma and Grandpa, we can swim in their pool every day.

2

- A: Are you OK, Lily? Have you got your shorts and trainers?
B: Yes, I have. But I don't want to play today.
A: Why? Do you feel OK?
B: I'm fine. It's just that I don't like playing basketball any more. I want to swap to the after-school tennis club.

3

- A: Here's your homework, Tom. It's very good. Now you need to read it to me.
B: But I don't like speaking in front people.
A: That's why it's important to practise. I know there are going to be lots of parents listening, but remember that they all want you to do well. And I'm sure they all like hearing about Italian art.

4

- A: How was your guitar lesson?
B: It was good, thanks. I like using the new book ...
A: ... But you don't like practising! Ellen, I know it isn't easy, but don't you want to be a pop star?
B: Not a pop star, Mum, a classical guitarist. And I know: 'if I want to be a guitarist one day, I have to practise every day'. OK, Mum!

5

- A: Are you ready? Dad says we need to finish packing tonight. That way we can leave early tomorrow and have all weekend away.
B: I'm almost ready. I really want to pack my phone!
A: I know! So do I, but we can't. Mum and Dad don't like taking gadgets when we go camping. They want us to relax and enjoy nature. No loud music, no phone calls.
B: I don't want to play music. I'm leaving my MP3 player at home. But I love playing on my phone.

9.4 and 9.5

- A: How about going to the museum this afternoon, Cam? There's a new exhibition about the history of sports.
B: I'm not sure. My sister said it's not that interesting.
A: But it's raining. What can we do?
B: Let's go shopping. I need some boots.
A: No, sorry. I really don't like shopping. And on Saturday there are always lots of people at the shopping centre.
B: Maybe you're right. What about going to see a film?
A: Yeah, good idea. We can go online and see what's on.

- 1 How about having a party?
- 2 Let's go swimming.

- 6 What about doing yoga?

10.1-10.4

I = Isobel K = Karen Y = Yvette

- I: Hi! I'm Isobel and this is my video diary about being an extra. This is my first film and I'm having a lot of fun. We're on location in the countryside. It's half past seven in the morning and I'm eating breakfast! I always eat before I go to the make-up room and put on my costume, because I know it's going to be a long day. I'm having a hot meal with some tea and talking to the other extras. This is my friend, Karen. We started work together last month.
- K: Hi!
- I: Karen, do you like the food here?
- K: Yes, I do! It's delicious.
- I: Hello again. It's eight o'clock now and I'm in the make-up room. This lovely woman is called Yvette and she is helping to make me look beautiful. It's not easy because I got up at six thirty this morning! There are big, grey circles under my eyes. Yvette, what time did you start work?
- Y: I started at half past seven. I did the stars' make-up first. They start work before the extras, you know.
- I: Do you enjoy your job, Yvette?
- Y: Yes, I love it because it's never boring. I work on lots of different films.
- I: It's half past nine. We're practising for the big scene later. In the film I'm going to be talking with some friends. We have to practise talking quietly because the stars of the film are talking at the same time. We're having a break at the moment. We can talk loudly for a while! There's my friend, Karen. ... Karen, tell me, what's the film about?
- K: We don't know the story! The makers of the film don't want to tell us because it's a secret.
- I: It's eleven o'clock now. We're all waiting for filming to start. I like working near the sea. It's better than being inside. Yesterday I saw some dolphins! But waiting is the one bad thing about being an extra. There's a lot of waiting. Once I had to wait for five hours on a train. I don't know what the problem is today. I'm listening to some music while I wait on the beach, and talking to you on my video diary!

- I: Hello again! It's half past one in the afternoon now. We aren't waiting any more but we didn't film the scene. They didn't even start the cameras! We had lunch at twelve and then we waited and waited – it's a real headache! Karen, tell us, what's the weather like?
- K: Well, Isobel, it's not very nice! It's cloudy and it's raining. No more filming today.
- I: Yes, that's right. We're going home. We're not going to work tomorrow because it's Sunday. But on Monday we start all over again. Just another day in the life of an extra. Bye, everyone!

10.5

- A: What's your favourite type of film?
- B: I love funny films. What about you?
- A: Hmm ... I like funny films but I'm not sure they are my favourite.
- B: Do you like action films?
- A: Well, I think they're OK. I think I like animal films best.
- B: Really? Why?
- A: Because I think the stories are interesting. And my little brother can watch them, too. They're family films.
