- L: That's so cool! What was it like?

- L: Why? Did they have more classes?
- A: No, but they start really early. We left the house at half past six and the classes began at seven o'clock. We're lucky we start at a quarter past eight here – it's easier to get up.

I'm very happy with you, Charlie. You're very good with customers and the shop is very tidy when you're here. The most important thing to remember is to give customers the right information. When you don't know what something costs, come and ask me and I can tell you. Don't worry about it. You'll soon learn.

3

A: Wow, it's lunchtime already. Shopping makes me really tired.

B: Me too, Dad. I think we went in every shop. Can we have something to eat, Dad? I'm hungry.

Hi, Laura, it's Nico. I hope you haven't forgotten it's my birthday on Saturday. I'm having a swimming party, but it will be on Friday instead of Sunday – it's the only day the pool is free. I've invited twenty-three people, but twenty-four are coming because Sam's bringing his cousin. He's really nice. The swimming pool is at the end of Gower Street. That's G-O-W-E-R. I'll put some balloons outside so you can all see it. It shouldn't be difficult to find.

As you know, I usually make pizza, but this year the café at the pool is going to do burgers for everybody. If it's a bit cold, they'll also make us cups of hot chocolate.

Can you be outside the swimming pool at a quarter past seven? We can only use the pool from half past seven until half past eight, so don't be late! You should bring your goggles and ... oh, don't forget the cake! I'll get some crisps and fruit, but everybody loves your baking!
