5A YOU MUST HAVE HAD A REASON

I'm at the airport, ready to catch my flight, but I can't find my passport.	It was my best friend's birthday, but I didn't call him/her.	I want some new clothes, but I don't have any money.
I have a test tomorrow, but I need help with it. I'm texting my classmate, but he/she's not replying.	My friend asked me to print his/her homework because his/her printer's out of ink. I read the essay and fixed some mistakes.	My friend texted me saying he/she is on his/her way to see me, but I didn't think we were meeting today!
We went to the cinema to see the new film, but it was sold out.	I'm trying to text my friend, but the message is not going through.	We're meeting at your place, and as a surprise I arrive with pizzas.
I have an exam tomorrow, but I want to go to a friend's birthday party tonight.	My friend said he/she wanted to borrow one of my books. I bought a copy and gave it to him/her as a present.	I'm running out of battery on my phone, but I don't have a charger with me.

9B ENVIRONMENTAL COMPOUNDS

Many studies suggest that acid	rain is a key factor in declining tree health.
Many new homes now have carbon	monoxide detectors installed in each bedroom.
To protect the environment, carbon and emissions	trading aren't enough, many environmentalists argue.
Some people believe climate	change is natural and even beneficial.
After a recent study, a new conservation	area was created to protect the ecosystem.
Many people would like to see fossil	fuels replaced by renewable energy sources.
All new building projects are subject to a green	audit to make sure that they are environmentally friendly.
Many scientists argue whether the greenhouse	effect can be reduced, or whether the damage is already too severe.
Carbon dioxide is one of the greenhouse	gases which absorbs energy from the sun, making the air warmer.
Many countries use landfill	sites rather than recycling because they are cheaper.
If managed carefully, some nature	reserves can still be popular tourist attractions.
Despite efforts to protect the ozone	layer , it hasn't repaired itself yet.
Despite growing international concern, rain	forests continue to be destroyed.
Some political parties focus on environmentally sustainable	development as their main policy.
